C c Numb. 668

The Daily Courant.

Tuesday, June 6 1704

Vienna, May 21.

THE 4th of this Month, Major General Ritſchau with a Body of regular Troops which he had drawn together in Moravia, paſs'd the River Mark, and falling upon a Body of the Malecontents that had for ſome time block'd up Trentſchin, routed them, killing 150 and taking 80 Priſoners, and reliev'd the Place. The 5th he march'd back to the Mark, and ſat down before Scalicz, a ſtrong Town and Paſs of great Importance ſituate on that River, that had been ſome time in the Hands of the Malecontents; it was ſurrendred to him on the 8th. The 6th, General Heiſter having clear'd the Iſland Schut of the Rebels, paſs'd the Danube to march into the Upper Hungary; and advancing to Sereth, a Paſs on the Waag, the Generals Berezeni and Caroli, who lay thereabouts with a Body of Malecontents, retir'd over that River with great Precipitation, in doing which they loſt ſome Men of their Rear. Upon this Advantage Gen. Heiſter ſent Orders the 10th to Maj. Gen. Ritſchau to march to the Waag to joyn him, intending to proſecute the War on that ſide with Vigour; but a few days after on Advice that Count Forgatſch had paſs'd the Danube below Buda into the Lower Hungary, he was oblig'd to return towards that River, (without ſtaying for Maj. Gen. Ritſchau,) and paſs'd over it at Comorra the 17th. Mean time Count Forgatſch advanc'd towards Papa, and having ſecret Intelligence with Count Antony Eſterhaſi, Nephew of the Palatine of Hungary, who was ſent from hence by the Council of War to command on this ſide the Danube, he met him (as had been concerted between them by Letters) near Veſprin, and pretendedly took him Priſoner and ſome Perſons of Note that were in his Company. This has brought the War again into the Lower Hungary, and 'tis fear'd Count Eſterhaſi will Influence many Gentlemen of that Province to follow his Example and embrace the Party of the Malecontents.

From the Amſterdam Gazette, dated June 5.

Vienna, May 24. The Elector Palatine has 'tis ſaid determin'd to depart from hence by the 16th of June at furtheſt; his Baggage will be ſent away next Week. The Command of the Regiment of Cuiraſſiers, of which the deceas'd Prince of Vaudemont was Collonel, is given to the Baron de Martini who was Lieutenant Collonel of the ſame Regiment. The Court is diſſatisfied with the Pope's ſending Order to his Nuncio here to forbid the Clergy to part with any of the Church Plate to be employ'd for the Defence of the Country in the preſent Diſtreſs; the more becauſe the Emperor did not proceed raſhly, but conſulted a ſelect Number of Divines before he came to a Reſolution to iſſue his Orders on that ſubject to the Clergy of the Hereditary Countries. Several Lords are very urgent that new Orders may be ſent into the Hereditary Countries to enforce the former; and that all reaſonable Means may be uſed to the end his Imperial Majeſty may be effectually obey'd in this Matter. 'Tis uncertain ſtill whether the King of the Romans will make this Campaign. They write from Gratz, that the Turkiſh Ambaſſador who is coming to this Court, arriv'd there the 17th, ſo that 'tis expected he will be here very ſuddenly. The Malecontents of Hungary begin to draw this way, and now the Court appears more inclin'd than hitherto to put an End to theſe Troubles by agreeing to a ſpeedy Accommodation with them. The 20th the Velt-Marſhal Heiſter encamp'd 3 Leagues beyond Comorra, and from thence is purſuing his March towards Alba Regalis and Simonturna. They write from Oedenburg the 22d, that General Forgats is come over the Raab with 1700 of the Malecontents, is encamp'd at Scharvar, and has ſummon'd the Inhabitants of the Country round him to joyn him; he has likewiſe ſummon'd the Town of Guns to ſurrender to him, whereupon the Magiſtrates of that Town have ſent hither for Succours. The neceſſary Diſpoſitions are making for putting the County of Oedenburg into a State of Defence, becauſe Count Eſterhaſi is drawing towards it with 3000 Malecontents. Prince Ragotski has ſummon'd a General Aſſembly of the chief Gentlemen of the Provinces that are in his Party to meet at Ketſchimet as yeſterday the 23d inſtant. Major General Ritſchau, with the Body of Imperialiſts he commands, is march'd from the Mark to the Waag.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated June 7.

Vienna, May 24. They write from Presbourg that the Lieutenant General Heiſter, Son of the Field Marſhal, is dead there. The Pope's forbidding the Clergy to furniſh the Emperor with their Church Plate towards the Charge of carrying on the War, is like to prove of no Effect, if it be true as is given out, that his Imperial Majeſty ſets light by it, and maintains that a certain Bull given to Charles V. has put it out of the Power of any Pope to excommunicate an Emperor or Archduke of Auſtria.

Falmouth, June 1. Yeſterday ſail'd hence a Pacquet-Boat for Lisbon, and alſo the Weſt-India Pacquet-Boat with 2 Mails for the Weſt-Indies.

Plymouth, June 2. On the 31ſt paſt ſail'd hence Her Majeſty's Ship the Rye-Galley to the Weſtward a Cruiſing. Here remains in this Port Her Majeſty's Ships the Expedition, Exeter, Coventry, Falmouth, Penzance and Lizard, alſo the homeward bound Fleet from Lisbon.

Yarmouth, June 3. This day came into and paſs'd through our Roads betwixt 30 and 40 Sail of laden Colliers, under convoy of Her Majeſty's Ship the Queenborough; the reſt of the Fleet that came from Newcaſtle ſtop'd, 'tis ſuppos'd, in the Humber, and with them Her Majeſty's Ship the Aſſiſtance.

Harwich, June 3. Yeſterday and the Night before 200 Sail of laden Colliers paſs'd by this place for the River. The Cheſter, Nightingal and Bonetta Sloop are ſtill here. Juſt now the Wind coming fair, the Pacquet-Boat is ſail'd with the Mail for Holland.
